Short-term rental licensing checklist (Saudi Arabia)

Short-term rentals in Saudi Arabia are licensed by the Ministry of Tourism as private tourism hospitality facilities. Use this list to prepare, and confirm the current conditions and fees with the Ministry before you apply or renew, as they change.

Property and unit _____ License number _____

License expiry date _____

Check before you start

ITEM	DONE	NOTES
The license comes from the Ministry of Tourism, not from Ejar. In AlUla, registration is with the Royal Commission for AlUla [2]	☐
A lease, commercial registration or general business license does not replace the tourism license	☐
Individual owners may register and manage up to 8 units. More needs a company with a tourist accommodation management license, or a contract with a licensed provider [2]	☐
The current conditions and fees read on the Ministry of Tourism's licensing portal [1]	☐

Prepare the documents

ITEM	DONE	NOTES
Title deed, or the lease contract if you rent the unit [2]	☐
If you lease the unit from its owner, that lease registered on Ejar	☐
National identification details, used for government verification [2]	☐
Fire safety equipment and a first aid kit in the unit [2]	☐
Basic guest information on amenities, such as parking and waste removal [2]	☐

Apply and pay

ITEM	DONE	NOTES
Register the unit as a private tourism accommodation facility on the Ministry's online portal [2]	☐
Pay the annual registration fee [2]	☐
Record the license number and its expiry date	☐

List and stay licensed

ITEM	DONE	NOTES
Add the license number to every listing. Airbnb shows it publicly on the listing [2]	☐
Keep license numbers, expiry dates, deeds or leases and safety documents in one place	☐
Renew before expiry. Since 1 January 2025 platforms must remove unlicensed listings, and operating without a license can bring fines of up to SAR 1 million, closure or both [3]	☐
